Accessibility Statement

This statement applies to content published on the www.nipolicefund.org domain.

This web site is run by the Northern Ireland Police Fund. It is designed to be used by as many people as possible. The text should be clear and simple to understand. You should be able to:

- zoom in up to 300% without problems
- navigate most of the website using just a keyboard
- navigate most of the website using speech recognition software
- use most of the website using a screen reader (including the most recent versions of JAWS, NVDA and VoiceOver)

How accessible this web site is

The web site is largely accessible. However, a few parts of this web site are not fully accessible. For example:

- some downloadable pdf heading elements are not consistent
- some images do not have alternative text or descriptions
- a Google location map does not have location directions in text
- navigating the web site by tabbing does not highlight the current link
- there is no text-link Site Map
- there is no facility to skip to main content when navigating just using a keyboard
- there is no colour contrast option

How to request content in an accessible format

If you need information in a different format, contact us by using the NIPF feedback form on <https://www.nipolicefund.org/contact/> and tell us:

- the web address (URL) of the content
- your name and email address
- the format you need, for example, audio CD, braille, BSL or large print, accessible PDF

Reporting accessibility problems with this web site

If you find any problems that are not listed on this page or you think we're not meeting the accessibility requirements contact us by using the NIPF feedback form on <https://www.nipolicefund.org/contact/>

Enforcement procedure

If you are not happy with our response contact the Equality Commission for Northern Ireland (ECNI) (<https://www.equalityni.org/Home>)

The Equality Commission for Northern Ireland (ECNI) is responsible for enforcing the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018 (the 'accessibility regulations').

Technical information about this web site's accessibility

The Northern Ireland Police Fund is committed to making its web site accessible, in accordance with the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018.

This website is partially compliant with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1 AA standard, due to the non-compliances listed below.

Non accessible content

The content that is not accessible is outlined below with details of:

- The reason it fails the success criteria
 - planned dates for when issues will be fixed
1. Some downloadable pdf heading elements are not consistent. These need to be updated on pdfs which do not comply. We plan to fix this by September 2020.
 2. Some images do not have alternative text or descriptions. We plan to fix this by September 2020.
 3. A Google location map does not have location directions in text. We plan to fix this by September 2020.
 4. Navigating the web site by keyboard tabbing does not highlight the current focused link. We plan to fix this by September 2020.
 5. There is no text-link Site Map. We plan to add this by September 2020.
 6. There is no facility to skip to main content when navigating just using a keyboard. We plan to add this by September 2020.
 7. There is no colour contrast option selector. We plan to add this by September 2020.

Disproportionate burden

There are no issues which cause a disproportionate burden to fix.

How we tested this web site

This web site was and is currently being tested for compliance with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.1 level A and level AA, and these tests have been carried out externally on 05/06/2020 by Red Rhino Interactive Ltd.

What we're doing to improve accessibility

We plan to identify and fix issues according to the timescales shown for each area above.
